Recreation Plan Update

The preparation of a Recreation Plan (Plan) was adopted by the City Council as a major City goal in May 2005. The purpose of the Plan is to provide a comprehensive review and assessment of recreation programs, services and facilities as well as preparation of a long-term (10 year), recreation focused vision for the community. The Plan and its development emphasized the role and vision of both the Plan and the Community Services Department to "Create Community through People, Parks and Programs." During the extensive public input process, common themes emerged that identify the key community characteristics and constraints that frame the dialogue and inform the Recreation Plan recommendations. The Mountain View community's sense of place is "recreation asset rich" with many family-friendly gathering places where people feel safe and secure. At the same time, the community struggles with questions of how best to use remaining open space, how to assure sufficient recreation program services and facilities, and how to increase access to those programs in the face of increased population, density and diversity.

The Recreation Plan development process involved a four-phased approach and multiple opportunities for public participation, sources of data and analysis. The first community workshop was held on June 7, 2006. Stakeholder interviews followed and additional public input was collected during the summer 2006 through recreation program participant surveys and athletic facility user group surveys. Additional perspectives were gained by completing and considering the results of an analysis of recreation patterns, preferences and trends, and a demographic profile of the community. The results were shared at a second community workshop held September 27, 2006. Additional processes included a recreation program and facility inventory and meeting with athletic field user groups. The results of these processes were further refined by focus groups held in February and March 2007. A draft of the Plan was written during the summer, presented to the community on October 17 and to the Parks and Recreation Commission on October 10 and 24, 2007, and is available on the City Website.

The Plan features: broad program and service outcomes; criteria for prioritizing programs and services; target markets; general approaches to implementation; a marketing plan and appendices with background data. The program, facility and implementation recommendations and priorities reflect the application of several qualitative and quantitative criteria: (a) the frequency a need was identified throughout the public outreach process; (b) the services, programs or activities that are best positioned to support and grow Mountain View's specific community quality of life characteristics; (c) the services, programs or activities that are best positioned to address the key community issue(s); (d) what supports a balance of programs relative to target markets, community characteristics and key issues; and (e) realignment opportunities for existing services, programs and activities. The methodology for the athletic facility demand analysis also used qualitative and quantitative criteria. These were supported by the athletic field user group surveys, public input meetings and use of a supply/demand/need utilization model.

Recreation Plan recommendations are made in three categories: programs and services; recreation facilities; and athletic facilities. The draft Plan includes 23 program and services recommendations, 7 recreation facilities and 3 options for athletic fields. For a full list of the recommendations and supporting documents, please see the Recreation Plan-First Draft available on the City website. For more information please visit: www.mountainview.gov The Council will review the Plan at a Study session on December 4, 2007. On September 11, 2007, City Council approved the new title of Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) to illustrate a higher level of civic engagement. The YAC was formed to provide the YAC with an opportunity to work directly with the Council Youth Services Committee and increase communication between the YAC and City Council. The YAC may make formal recommendations to the City Council on youth related programs, services and facilities. The YAC is comprised of a maximum number of 15 middle school and high school students. For more information, visit www.mountainview.gov or email YAC@mountainview.gov

Play Based Curriculum: A Solid Choice for Strong Children

Over the past twenty years a significant amount of research on the cognitive development of the preschool aged child has been completed. Through projects such as the High Scope Perry Preschool Project and the Rhode Island Early Learning Standards, the public is beginning to understand the far reaching benefits of the preschool experience. It is now well known that children who attend quality preschools fare better in reading and mathmatics, possess stronger social and emotional fortitude skills, and are more likely to graduate from college than children who have not participated in preschool.

These benefits are strengthened when the curriculum is developmentally appropriate and play based. According to the National Association for the Education of Young Children, “play has numerous learning and developmental characteristics that can profoundly support a child’s development.” Some of the benefits of play based curriculum are:

- Play is the preferred mode of learning for preschool aged children.
- Play is physical, promoting fitness and motor skill development.
- Play promotes language development and early literacy.
- Play is cooperative, promoting pro-social values and self esteem.

Play based curriculum is progressive, effective, and the preferred model of early education advocates. The Recreation Preschool Program is committed to providing the youngest members of the community with developmentally appropriate, play-based programming. Please see below for more information about the play-based program the Recreation Division offers.

Registration Requirements: Correct age verification MUST be submitted by providing a photocopy of the child’s birth certificate and a current immunization card. Participants must be able to use the bathroom independently.

This creative play-based preschool program has been designed to meet the developmental needs of the “whole child.” The curriculum centers on the vital social, opportunities children need in order to grow emotionally, cognitively, and kinesthetically. Children are provided the opportunity to learn at their own pace with a curriculum that includes daily art and circle activities, singing, dancing, and storytelling. Instructors: Miss Mary and Miss Tamara

Aviso de Plan de Recreación

El desarrollo del Plan de Recreación (Plan) fue adoptado por el Consejo de la Alcaldía de la Ciudad, como una de las más importantes metas de la Ciudad en mayo del 2005. El propósito del Plan es proveer una revisión cuidadosa y completa, así como una evaluación de programas de recreación, servicios e instalaciones, así como la preparación de la visión a largo plaza (10 anos) de recreación enfocada en la comunidad. El Plan y su desarrollo hacen énfasis e incorporan principalmente la importancia de la recreación al público, para que literalmente podamos decir que “creamos comunidad por medio de personas, parques y programas”. Durante el extenso proceso de aportación pública, salieron a la superficie temas comunes para identificar las características y obligaciones de la comunidad, que marcaron el dialogo y la formación de las recomendaciones al Plan de Recreación. Lo que la comunidad de Mountain View desea es “recreación de calidad” con una variedad de lugares propios para familias, donde se sientan seguros y sin temores.

Así mismo, la comunidad se preocupa de cómo mantener el resto del área disponible con campos al aire libre, como tener suficientes servicios, programas e instalaciones de recreación; así como de que manera incrementar el acceso a estos programas, ya que la población no solo esta aumentando, sino en la diversidad de personas que viven aquí.

El Plan de Recreación se desarrolló en cuatro aspectos, y con varias oportunidades de participación del público, recursos de datos y análisis. El primer taller comunitario se llevó a cabo el 7 de junio de 2006. Entrevistas de personas interesadas y comentarios del público se recopilaron por medio de las encuestas de participantes de recreación, así como encuestas de usuarios de los campos deportivos. También se obtuvo otra perspectiva por medio de los resultados del análisis de modelos, preferencias y tendencias, así como el perfil demográfico de la comunidad. Los resultados se dieron a conocer en el segundo taller que se llevó a cabo el 27 de septiembre de 2006. Además de ésto, se incluyó un inventario de programas e instalaciones, así como una reunión con grupos de usuarios de los campos deportivos. Los resultados del proceso fueron refinados por medio del dialogo con los grupos, que se llevaron a cabo en febrero y marzo de 2007. El Plan se escribió durante el verano, presentado al la comunidad el 17 y 24 de octubre del 2007 y esta disponible en la pagina de Internet de la ciudad.

Las recomendaciones de los programas, instalaciones e implementaciones reflejan criterios varios no solo de calidad sino de cantidad. Debemos advertir que los resultados y el criterio, aunque válidos no tienen bases estadísticas. Los criterios mas bien demuestran: (a) las necesidades que se encontraron por medio del dialogo con el público; (b) los programas, servicios y actividades se serían de mayor beneficio para apoyar y acrecentar las características de la calidad de vida de Mountain View; (c) los programas, servicios y actividades que satisfagan las necesidades específicas de la comunidad; (d) el balance de los programas hacia el mercado específico, conforme a las características y necesidades de la comunidad; e) y en su oportunidad de reorganizar los programas, servicios y actividades existentes. El método del análisis respecto a la demanda en el uso de las instalaciones deportivas se tomó también en consideración la calidad y cantidad de éstos. Ésto, además del apoyo de las encuestas de los grupos que usan los campos deportivos, los comentarios del público durante las reuniones comunitarias; y la utilización del modelo de inventario/demanda/necesidad.

Las Recomendaciones se hicieron en tres categorías: programas y servicios; instalaciones de recreación y campos deportivos. Hay 23 recomendaciones de programas y servicios que se situaran en orden de prioridad, el tiempo se decidirá por medio del proceso de revisión y de aprobación. Hay 7 recomendaciones de instalaciones de recreación agrupadas en tres categorías de prioridad: de más importancia, de alta importancia y de prioridad. Hay 3 opciones para los campos deportivos que están catalogados como prioridad en el orden de: máxima, moderada y mínima. Para una explicación mas completa de las recomendaciones y documentos que lo justifican, favor de ver el primer documento del Plan de Recreación en el sitio de la Web de la Ciudad. La Comisión de Parques y Recreación estudió las recomendaciones el 10 y 24 de octubre de 2007. Las recomendaciones también se presentaron en el Taller a la Comunidad el 17 de octubre. Para más información, visítenos al www.mountainview.gov. Se revisara el Plan en una sesión de estudio el 4 de diciembre del 2007.
